

Real Estate open houses come under the following policy: The open house is for other real estate agents, not for the public, therefore the Public Access Policy does not come into play. This practice has worked satisfactorily several times to date and it much quicker and easier than the Public Access Policy. For the seller, each agent that views the open house represents many potential buyers. For the subdivision, it reduces traffic and congestion on our roads. This is a win for anyone moving property in our subdivision.
